Houston Associate Alejandra Salinas has been appointed by the American Bar Association Antitrust Law Section to serve as a Young Lawyer Representative on its Diversity, Advanced Committee for the 2022/2023 term. As a member of the Section's Leadership, Alejandra will play an integral role in the Section's success.

Previously named one of Houston's "Top Women in Law" by The National Diversity Council, Alejandra represents plaintiffs and defendants in complex and high-stakes commercial litigation. Her client list ranges from large Fortune 500 retail and energy companies to small businesses and individuals. Like her client list, Alejandra's litigation experience is diverse. She has successfully tried cases involving complex patent infringement and trade secret claims, constitutional rights, unfair business competition, and multi-million-dollar oil and gas disputes.
