Seltzer is responsible for leading the firm's work in some of the country's most significant antitrust suits such as In re Auto Parts Antitrust Litigation, in which settlements exceed $1.2 billion to date. He is also serving as co-lead counsel for the plaintiffs in the multidistrict litigation, In re National Football League's "Sunday Ticket" Antitrust Litigation, where his leadership and work helped secure class certification for the classes in 2023. In 2023 Seltzer also secured $140 million for plaintiffs in partial settlements in a class action challenging real estate brokerage commission practices where the firm was appointed by the Court to serve as co-lead counsel for plaintiffs. The case is proceeding against the remaining defendants.

Seltzer is widely recognized in the legal community for his leadership in antitrust and other complex litigation. He sits on the Advisory Board of the American Antitrust Institute and has repeatedly been named one of the world's Thought Leaders in Competition by Who's Who Legal and recognized as a leading litigator in antitrust and securities litigation by Chambers USA, Best Lawyers in America, the Legal 500 and other publications.
