

The perfect brief? Legal writing guru Bryan Garner, editor in chief of Black's Law Dictionary, says Susman Godfrey's Fifth Circuit submission merits such praise

03.01.2010 | 10 | 21NEWS

The perfect brief? Legal writing guru Bryan Garner, editor in chief of Black's Law Dictionary, says Susman Godfrey's Fifth Circuit submission merits such praise. Garner's Advanced Legal Writing & Editing features the brief, authored by Jonathan Bridges and Suyash Agrawal.

Noting that Bridges and Agrawal handled the appeal on a pro bono basis for a worthy cause, Garner calls the work "the Atticus Finch brief that many a lawyer dreams to write."

Bridges and Agrawal appreciate the recognition, but even more, they take pride that the hard work resulted in a victory for their client.